MARKETING STRATEGY

We are aware how hard is to marketize and publicize a conference held for the first time, so we developed the following strategy.

Social Media

The primary source of our marketing is going to be all the available social media, using the official twitter account (@appbuilders_ch) and the one of the association (@swissmobidevs). We will also use dedicated websites like techup.ch or meetup.com to invite people to our event.

Media Partners

We are reaching out to special publications and digital media to create valuable partnerships and promote our event on their platforms. These partners are going to give away a limited amount of free tickets in exchange of a retweet or similar viral promotion strategy.

Community Partners

We have a good network of communities all around the globe and some of them are happy to promote our event internally. We are also going to offer a special discount for the most valuable ones, motivating people to attend our event.

Local Media

Even if the kind of audience can be very limited, we will promote our event in the local media, so local developers are going to be informed of the event.

Web

Last but not least, we have built dedicated website to promote our event, with all the necessary informations about speakers, venue, price and a list of potential places to stay while in Zürich. Other than that, we will also add our conference to websites offering overviews of conferences like Lanyrd.

WHO IS BEHIND APP BUILDERS

With the «Swiss Mobile Developers Association» as organizer and legal body, we strive to develop the relationship and exchange between local and international professionals interested in mobile technologies.

The «Swiss Mobile Developers Association» is a non-profit association currently run by mobile developers and engineers based all across the country, in their spare time.

We see the opportunity to organize a conference as an event for the community to meet and learn from brilliant people. For this reason we try to have ticket prices low and competitive with other conference based in Europe, making the event affordable for everyone.

After the event, we will publish online all the recorded talks for free, creating value and interest around the conference that aims to become a recurrent event with a yearly schedule.
